Executive Summary

Wardex evaluated 6 vulnerabilities against the configured risk gate (risk_appetite: 0.2, warn_above: 0.12, mode: any). The gate produced 2 BLOCK, 2 WARN, and 2 ALLOW verdicts. 2 formal risk acceptances were issued by ciso@fintech.pt with HMAC-SHA256 signatures and explicit TTLs. Following acceptance validation, the overall release decision is ALLOW.

Risk Gate Findings

The composite risk score is computed as: $S = CVSS \times EPSS \times criticality \times exposure \times (1 - CCE)$. EPSS absent defaults to 1.0 (fail-close). A score above risk_appetite produces BLOCK; above warn_above produces WARN.

Risk Acceptances

Each risk acceptance is HMAC-SHA256 signed over the full envelope (CVE, justification, actor, TTL, config hash). Acceptances are stored in an append-only audit log; retroactive modification is detected via hash chain verification (wardex accept verify).
